GOOD CREDIT GIVEN THE FRIENDS OF THE MARSHAL IN ARKANSAS.

At Sale of Stolen Jewelry Said Nothing by the Deputy Sent to Washington and the Matter to Be Duly Investigated.—Senator Conkling Not in the White House.—Other Matters.—Interest Said Considerations Have to Do Therewith.—General Washington Gossip.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 27.—[Special.]—It leaks out from the Interior Department that Deputy Marshal Needles, who came to this city from Arkansas to bring Lincoln county jewelry thieves to the Supreme Court, and who started back to Washington with the prisoners on Saturday last, has not yet arrived here. Needles was given a transportation order to Washington and return, and was allowed $10 per day for his services. He was also instructed to report to the Attorney-General, and to the Secretary of the Interior, and to the Commissioner of the General Land Office. Needles was also instructed to bring with him all the papers in the case, and to make a full report of the whole matter. He was also instructed to call on the Commissioner of the General Land Office, and to confer with him as to the best method of securing the return of the property to the owners. Needles was also instructed to call on the Attorney-General, and to confer with him as to the best method of securing the conviction of the prisoners. He was also instructed to call on the Secretary of the Interior

The novel display of the automatic switchboard in New York will be one of the most effective and amusing features of the program. Electric Power will be the most important of the motor panels which will include many models, the Chicago having the place of honor, between sixteen, steam and gas motors, and the gasoline motors. The boats will be elegantly decorated and all the two rowers and yachts will fire a salute as the President passes on the way to the pier. The sights on the water will, if anything, eclipse that on shore in real beauty and picturesqueness.

A Lorain (Ohio) foundry employing 1,000 men has been shut down, the owners having determined to run their business on a non-union basis. The men have been out for three months, and the strike has been a bitter one. Many of the strikers have left the city, and the foundry will be run with new men. The Lorain foundry was the largest in the State, and its shutdown will be a severe blow to the business interests of the city.

Gov. Altgeld, in an interview with a Tribune reporter, said he intended to be in Chicago next Tuesday. The Governor will be present at the meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the World's Columbian Exposition, which will be held on that day.

Gov. Altgeld has appointed Judge Tuley, Judge Gary, Judge Horton, Judge Prendergast, and Judge Shepard as a committee to confer with the Governor of Indiana relative to the proposed Chicago-Indiana boundary line.

The Chicago produce markets were dull, but little else than a tame trade. Wheat was bought freely for a decline from yesterday's closing prices, buyers being encouraged by a belief that the export business must show strengthened by the fact of light receipts, and prophecies were ventured confident of quite a yellow fever in Florida. Corn was dull, with Monday quoted 1c over and with Wednesday 1c higher, and May 1c higher, while July was 1c higher than Wednesday's closing figures.

Baron Fava, in an interview with Baron Blanc, said he intended to be in Chicago some time next week.

The week of Brig. Gen. Thomas of Washington recalls a certain figure from the last years of service in this State. He will be absent at Springfield, where as an aggressive and successful independent element in politics he was a factor for half a century. The Thomas family, originally Welsh, Revolutionary, Quaker, and Virginian in every direction, is credited in the directory, when Chicago's population was considered immense, the Baron Steuben and the Lewis Baron, who has since made a name. This was in 1836, we believe. Since that time he has been farmer, lawyer, politician, legislator, and soldier, and unique in every direction. It is cautious to recall his political career, since no one will know, as a lawyer he persistently declined himself to his associates in the many cases in which he was retained, and only for his luck, and he has left a compilation of Indian information which amounts to an encyclopedia in itself, particularly in the line of the Sioux, language, sign language, manners and customs, Indian pow-wows, religious, private writings and testimonies. It is a work of rare scholarship and labor, and may with Mr. Thomas a labor of love.

The New York Canoe Railway announces that it intends to give to the running of Sunday trains/interest as far as possible. The movement of the week cannot be considered with, nor that of permissive actions. There is however, much doubt which will not influence by the delay, and the law of a city of this magnitude is like unto that of little consequence in the country. This change is made, as Mr. Thayer states, by the order of the Common Councils, and grows out of religious scruples on the part and a desire to accommodate the people, who have been saying for some time that they would like to have Sunday to themselves. It is the practical acts of the city law which concern Mr. Thayer. He says the work now done in seven days will easily have to be done in six and that a cessation of work Sunday means a rest. Brokers and Tuesdays. Freight cars will have to be taken and more powerful engines will have to be built to pull them, for the loading will be to make the trains longer. It also runs clear to a dispatch Saturday evening the cars now may be left at their homes. The expense of an old day at a gate might also be cut the night and church time. That the delay in Sunday is convenient and that it seems to some that practical results in connection with both Sunday during the rest of the week that has clearly been the case.

CONFLICTING VOTES FOR CHAIRMAN COMMISSIONERS.

It is appreciated that after the Chicago Drainage District is established one party will elect the whole nine trustees, and that, having a necessity of control, with an eye to success in taxes, prices, or profits their action, the board will represent not a partisan machine but one that powers the patronage for the advantage of the ruling majority of a political party. To prevent this evil result it is proposed to so amend the bill now before the Senate as to have the majority party in the counties and to secure to the minority party—Section Democrat or Republican—the remaining five trustees.

This suggestion that some method of voting be provided that will insure minority representation on the Chicago Drainage Commission seems very proper here, but doubts are arising as to whether a new method of taking the will of the voters and providing them to determine their voting power or lacking it to a majority of the legal votes be constitutional.

This objection may seem rather fanciful on first glance to those who have not studied the subject. But an investigation will show that it is possible to arising. Except where and to the extent that it is limited by the Constitution the Legislature of Illinois has as complete sovereign legislative power as the Imperial Parliament of Great Britain or the Congress over the Territories. It can adopt any law not expressly forbidden by State or other organic law, and it can amend any law passed by itself or any previous Legislature by a majority vote. Without any limit whatever. It can change the law governing the election of trustees of the Drainage District, and it can change it as often as it pleases. It can provide that the trustees shall be elected by the voters of the whole State, or by the voters of Cook County, or by the voters of the Drainage District, or by the voters of any part of the Drainage District. It can provide that the trustees shall be elected by the voters of any one of the nine districts from which they are to be chosen, or by the voters of any two districts, or by the voters of any three districts, or by the voters of any four districts, or by the voters of any five districts, or by the voters of any six districts, or by the voters of any seven districts, or by the voters of any eight districts, or by the voters of any nine districts. It can provide that the trustees shall be elected by the voters of any one district, and by the voters of any two districts, and by the voters of any three districts, and by the voters of any four districts, and by the voters of any five districts, and by the voters of any six districts, and by the voters of any seven districts, and by the voters of any eight districts, and

Lon & Perins' Sauce.

Lon & Perins, the original and genuine Worcestershire Sauce, has been before the public over half a century. Like all popular favorites, it has long been the standard of comparison and the pretense for counterfeiters, who not being able to imitate themselves, offer to the public substitutes in bottles, labels and style of getting up. They have not counterfeited the signature of Lon & Perins, which is on the red label of every genuine bottle, and of which this is a facsimile.

MUST HAVE PURE LIQUOR.

[illegible] PASSES A BILL AGAINST ADULTERATED WHISKY.

A Tax on Old Stocks Levied to Re-Bonded—The Appropriation for a Northern Military Camp Passed—Other Bills Upon the Legislative Calendar—Agreed Upon for Adjournment.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—[Special.]—The Senate worked to-day nearly all night, and succeeded in clearing the calendar of all bills which were ready for action. It practically completed the work of the session, and will adjourn to-morrow morning. The House has also done a great deal of work, and will probably adjourn to-morrow night. The Senate bill to prevent the adulteration of liquors was passed. It provides that no person shall manufacture, sell, or keep for sale any liquor which is adulterated, or which contains any deleterious drug. Any person violating the law is subject to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000, and to imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than one year. Any person who shall sell liquor which is adulterated, or which contains any deleterious drug, shall be liable to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000, and to imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than one year. Any person who shall sell liquor which is adulterated, or which contains any deleterious drug, shall be liable to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000, and to imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than one year.

The Legislature will not adjourn until the 30th of next month. This is the date fixed by the general assembly, and probably it will be taken as which the members will be paid. Governor Tanner has not yet signified his intention of calling an extra session, and probably will not do so. It is generally supposed that he will call the Legislature together in June to pass the Chicago charter bill, which has been agreed upon by the Republicans and Democrats of Chicago, and which will be introduced in the Senate next week. It is probable that the Governor will call an extra session of the Legislature in June to pass the Chicago charter bill, which has been agreed upon by the Republicans and Democrats of Chicago, and which will be introduced in the Senate next week.
